Sogetsu Ikebana Floral Arrangements

In Japan, flower arrangements are used as decorations on a level with paintings and other art objects. Ikebana, the ancient Japanese art of flower arrangement, is more than simply putting flowers in a vase. It is a disciplined art form in which emphasis is placed on linear perfection, colour harmony, space and form.

Sofitel Melbourne On Collins and the Sogetsu Ikebana school are proud to present this exhibition of the school's arrangements.

The Sogetsu School was founded in 1927, by the late Sofu Teshigahara (1900–1979). The Kakeiho method he developed was a systematic approach through several styles, which made Ikebana available to everyone.
